Advantages for entertainment continue to enter into the scheme of life in our town. Now comes the bowling alley and few know the history of this ancient and honorable sport. In modern times bowling has become a recognized and widely patronized sport in many American cities, although it seems the first record of a match game in America was in New York in 1840. As far back as the 12th century bowling was played in London.

So popular has the sport become that by 1895 a new set of rules had to be adopted and the American Bowling Congress was formed to make these necessary laws of the game. Besides the skill required to make high scores the game offers a form of exercise not to be had in any other indoor sport.

Bowling has an ancient background. Bows (bolz) later to be called bowling, and bowling on the green and lawn bowls, is one of the oldest games in existence and is said to date back to the days of ancient Greece and Egypt. In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, bowling alleys were numerous in England. From these times to the present the game has undergone many changes and although it is a long way from the sands of the ancient beaches where crudely devised spheres were skillfully rolled, the ancient and honorable sport still finds devotees in thousands of communities and the modern alleys with their polished floors are enough to entice many to know of this good old sport.

Such an alley is now being constructed here. Played in New York before the revolution, bowling now comes to Cameron. The preparation for this sport requires considerable outlay and indications are our town will have an alley worthy of the game.

Tanning leather on the farm is among the present possibilities of vocational agriculture now available to farmers of this section. It was a pleasure to hear this question discussed by Mr. Parnell of the local faculty Monday night at Ad Hall. Few seem to realize the importance of this arm of the local educational facilities. It is a continuous job and Mr. Parnell is engaged the year round in work among farmers, bringing to them such helpful courses as tanning leather on the farm.

In the Monday night meeting it was of striking interest to see such manifestation of eagerness to take advantage of these courses. Ah Hall farmers have been consistent all the year in their co-operation with this educational service. Mr. Parnell, well equipped for this work, knew the subject well and the lecture was educational to this column. In fact new slants were given on "hide tanning," something the average editor must be good at when the occasion demands, but extremely hazardous business.

One of the ancient as well as honorable domestic engagements of the primitive peoples, tanning hides on the farm for practical uses, continues to enlist interest and in the aggregate is worth millions to our rural dwellers. Chrome tanning, discussed Monday night, is a short and inexpensive method of preparing skins for use. The process makes a durable and practical product. The formula, it was advanced, would produce good leather for less than 12c per pound.

Few people know the extent of the leather industry in America. The last known authentic figures on the whole of the industry were published by the federal government in 1914. There were 6758 establishments devoted to the production of leather with an invested capital of $743,000,000. The value of the product reached the staggering sum of $1,104,000,000. The value of leather for saddlery and (See OUR TOWN on page 4)

Rev. and Mrs. Love Return to Cameron

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Love have returned to Cameron from Boloxi, Mississippi, where they have been resting for several weeks.

Rev. Love suffered a heart attack some time ago and has been at the famous resort for some time recuperating. Friends will be glad to know they have returned to Cameron and that Mr. Love will preach Sunday from his pulpit at A.W. Saints Episcopal church.

11 Year Old Lad Goes In Water for Rescue

Clyde Copus, Jr., 12, was happy Wednesday and thanking his playmate, Monroe Corbin 11, who rescued him from a lake in Wilson-Ledbetter Park where he had fallen into eight feet of water.

Monroe plunged into the lake to the rescue when he saw his friend go under for the second time. The rescue was made in the presence of a number of adults who stood about the lake front.

Clyde fell from the dam into the water and was struggling to keep above surface when Monroe saw his plight. Both boys were playing in the park. Recent rains have filled the lake.

Corbin when he plunged into the water caught his friend by the hand and towed him to shore, saving his life. Both are in school. Monroe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Corbin of Cameron.

Wallace Beery at Cameron Theatre May 26th and 27th

Wallace Beery, favorite with Cameron theater patrons, is coming to the screen at the Cameron Theatre on Sunday and Monday May 26 and 27 in "West Point of the Air," filmed at Randolph Field, San Antonio.

Mr. Swift points with pride to the program for May which includes some of the best pictures of the year and the Beery classic is among the number.

Will Rogers in "Life Begins at 40" is the attraction Sunday and Monday next.

SAGE OF CLAREMORE ON SCREEN SUNDAY

If you have been saving up laughs, prepare to shed them now, for Will Rogers' latest comedy "Life Begins at 40" opening Sunday at the Cameron Theatre, contains a bundle of hilarious situations that will act as magnets to the laughter chained within us all.

The breezy comedy, suggested by the Walter B. Pitkin book hit, is described as a hilarious fun fest that works into a pandemonium of mirth. The imitable Will is cast as a country editor who proves that the way to get a kick out of life is to put a double kick into it.

From other cities, reports tell of this picture delighting as the "clowning triumph" of Will Rogers' screen career. Youth and age roar in unison. (See WILL ROGERS on page 4)

Houston Officers Take Carl Henderson to Face Robbery Charges There

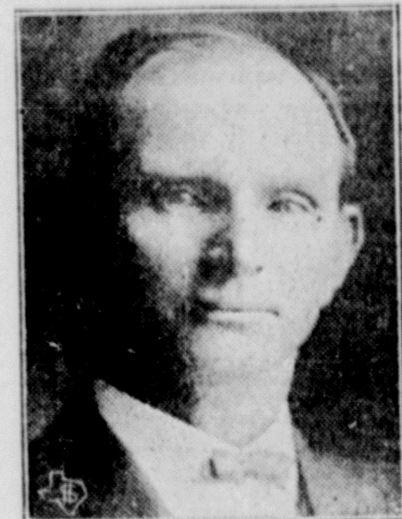

Carl Henderson of Branchville was arrested by Sheriff R. M. Kennedy last Friday and given over to custody of Houston detectives.

Sheriff Kennedy said he would face robbery charges in Harris county. Henderson was arrested some weeks ago in connection with the theft of an automobile from H. N. Maddox but no bill was returned against him. In 1931 he was adjudged insane by a jury in county court here but was never taken to confinement.

Recently, according to Sheriff Kennedy, with two other men, one of whom is now in jail, Henderson engaged in a running gun fight with the sheriff at Hempstead. Hijacking near Hempstead caused officers to intercept the bandit car a short distance out on the Houston road.

According to Sheriff Kennedy, when officers opened first Henderson and the other man now at large, abandoned the car. The sheriff gave chase to the remaining bandit

Dissenter From Alto

GEORGE B. TERRELL

They called him the lone wolf. His home town rose up in a storm of protest when he attacked the CWA and NRA. George B. Terrell, former commissioner of Agriculture and Congressman at Large from Texas, came right back at his critics and stood his ground. He's one of the few in political history who had the courage to speak his convictions. He will retire from politics he says because there is no place left for a Democrat.

RAIL EMPLOYEES TO ORGANIZE IN CITY

Cameron has been designated headquarters for the Southern Pacific railway employees club it was announced here Monday by E. C. Cole, local agent for the company.

A meeting will be held Thursday night at the school for the purpose of organizing a service club and to elect officers. At present the only service clubs in Texas are at Victoria, San Antonio, Houston, Ennis and Austin.

Cameron will be headquarters for the new club embracing the railway lines from Rockdale to Waco and Marlin. Prominent officials will be present for the meeting.

Mr. Cole said that two reels of talking pictures will be shown free. (See RAIL on page 4)

Delegates Named To K. C. Convention In Taylor Next Week

Delegates to the state convention of Knights of Columbus have been announced by the local council. The convention will meet in Taylor on Tuesday and Wednesday May 21 and 22.

J. C. Andres and Rev. Tom O'Sullivan of Burlington have been named as delegates from Cameron.

Checks for Milam County farmers due from the Government on cotton rental contracts and corn-hog deals are already in the office of the county agent here and commitments received this week will bring to farmers approximately $70,000 it was announced Tuesday.

Garland Beard assistant in the offices of the agent said that checks now ready to be delivered would total $27,210 and the commitments received would bring another allotment of checks that would total about $40,000.

County Agent Banzhaf is in Washington attending the farm rally to tell the president farmers want the AAA continued.

Mr. Beard said the office had on hand a number of cattle checks that remain undelivered. Stockmen who have not received their checks are requested to call at once.

The checks received thus far for distribution number 647, and corn-hog contracts have been sent to the state board for review and these have been reported in good shape and the corn-hog contract signers may expect checks within the next few weeks.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

A number of checks waiting their owners are and have been for some time in the offices of George Banzhaf, county agent. These vouchers are for cattle men and represent amounts the government is paying for cattle slain. The office is anxious to have these checks taken out. It has become necessary to appeal to owners to come in and get them.

BAND MUSIC IS NOW AFFILIATED SUBJECT

Music as an affiliated subject in Cameron Schools has been established by action of the school board here, it was announced Wednesday by Superintendent E. A. Perrin.

Francis Cox, band director, has been elected teacher of band and instrumental music in the schools and is a member of the faculty. The movement was regarded as the most progressive step in the history of the city for a permanent band organization.

No tuition charges will be made after July 1, Mr. Cox announced. All pupils including girls as well as boys will now be eligible without tuition cost to take band music.

Mr. Cox will have eight periods each day for teaching music to the (See BAND on page 4)

BUSINESS PROPERTY SOLD HERE WEDNESDAY

A real estate transaction involving transfer of the W. T. Hefley building occupied by the Milam Theatre was an important development of the week in property sales.

The building was purchased by Stanton E. Dossett and Stanley H. Swift. The consideration was not announced.

Mr. Swift said the building would continue to be the home of the Milam Theatre, oldest play house in Cameron, first established as the New Hefley Theatre by the late Sam Hefley.

Extensive improvements are to be made in the building giving Cameron another modern theatre. Patrons will welcome the announcement that these improvements are to be made.

HOOVER LEAVES FOR MERCEDES IN VALLEY

W. R. Hoover, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, and official here for the Gulf Refining Company, left Cameron Monday for Mercedes in the Valley to make his home.

Friends here will be glad to know he has received a promotion with the company and wish him well in his new valley home. Mr. Hoover has been a resident here for a number of years and the city regrets his departure.

Cedar from Lebanon In Gavel Owned By John W. Haygood

John W. Haygood, local Masonic leader, has just completed a gavel made from red cedar taken from logs and flooring of his ancestral home in Robertson county.

Nail holes in the main body of the gavel have been plugged with cedar pigments from the native wood of Mount Lebanon range in Palestine and Syria. The wood was sent him by Irvin Clarey of New York.

The forests of Lebanon figure prominently in Masonic history. There on the mountain ranges of Lebanon the cedars still grow much the same as in ancient times, but in greatly restricted areas. It is said that only a few groves of the famous cedar now remain. They stand on the western slopes of Jebel Makhlal at an altitude of 6000 feet above the level of the sea.

Cedar from Lebanon is highly prized. Mr. Haygood will exhibit this gavel during the Centennial. The handle is made from the flooring of the old Robertson county home where his grandmother was born. In turn his own mother and himself were born in this home erected about 1836.

EIGHT FARMERS GO TO WASHINGTON

Eight farmers left Milam County Sunday morning for Washington to attend the rally of thousands in the Capitol. Those who attended are Geo. Banzhaf, County Agent; Geo. T. Graves, D. K. Hall, J. C. Freeman, J. D. Baskin, A. J. Smith, H. H. Camp and Wright Ellison.

The men will carry the message of endorsement from the farmers of this county to President and Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture. They expect to return home next week.

Ad Hall Farmers To Discuss Credit Bank Monday Night

Farmers in the Ad Hall community on Monday night will hear a discussion of the regional credit bank to finance crop production. The bank at Bryan has financed more than $100,000 in crop loans in this county at 4 per cent interest.

Monday night last Mr. Parnell, vocational education director in the schools, discussed chrome method of tanning leather on the farm. Specimens of tanning were on display. Mr. Parnell discussed for the benefit of the farmers this important task. Many questions were answered and the meeting was profitable to farmers as well as visitors.

Farm Club Notes

CLUB NOTES
"It pays to have a variety of vegetables in the garden," says Josie Glaser, Garden Demonstrator for the Corinth 4-H Girls Club. Josie has 37 different varieties of Vegetables planted, with a total row space of 2125 feet. At present she has canned 30 containers of leafy vegetables to be added to the family pantry shelves.

"This is the first dress I ever made and did not have to rip out a single seam," says Miss Annie Hamble, member of the Ad Hall Home Demonstration Club. "I made it by using my foundation pattern," Annie states. She plans to enter a dress made by using the foundation pattern, in the county dress contest June 7th.

Roses from the garden in every room in the house, roses for the neighbors and plenty left in the garden, is the report of Polly Lumus, yard demonstrator for the Gause 4-H Girls Club. Polly prepared the ground for her roses by deep digging. Then the roses were planted which has resulted in quantities of roses the first season.

Look Out for the Garden Pests This Month.

The most common insects which appear during May are listed below, with brief description to aid you in identifying them, and listing measures for their control.

Plant Lice—A green sucking bug, usually under surface of the leaf, attacking cabbage, melons and cucumbers. Put two teaspoons black leaf forty and a piece of laundry soap 1 inch square in a gallon of water, and use as a spray.

Cabbage Worms—Velvet green or looping caterpillar, about an inch long attacking cabbage, cauliflower and collards. Pray or dust with calcium arsenate.

Tomato Fruit Worm—Dark striped worm an inch long, boring into the ripening fruit of the tomato. Spray or dust with calcium arsenate at weekly intervals, beginning when tomatoes are as large as marbles.

Striped Cucumber Beetles—Striped yellow and black beetles, 1-5 inch long, affecting cucumbers and melons. Apply nicotrol or nicotins dust under a box to confine at area affected; or use one pound sodium fluosilicate and 2 pounds of hydrated lime as a dust, applying when leaves are dry.

Potato Beetles—Striped back and yellow beetle, 1-3 inch long, and its orange colored slug, affecting Irish potatoes. Spray or dust with calcium arsenate.

Harequin Cabbage Bug—Sucking bug, 1-2 inch long, definitely figured with black and orange marking, affecting cabbage and collards, as well as cauliflower. Spray with a solution of 1 pound of soap in 6 gallons of water.

Squash Bug—Spray likewise with solution of 1 pound of soap in 6 gallons of water.

SPIDERS INFEST HOME

New Orleans.—The family of E. O. Schultze deserted his home when biologists found several hundred black widow spiders there. The death of a one year old child at Mobile, Alabama, after being bitten by such a spider, hastened their egress.

Get Rid of Poisons Produced by Constipation

A cleansing laxative—purely vegetable Black-Draught—is the first thought of thousands of men and women who have found that by restoring the downward movement of the bowels many disagreeable symptoms of constipation promptly can be relieved. . . Mr. J. P. Mahaffey, of Clinton, S. C., writes: "I have found that Black-Draught is very effective in the cleansing of the system. When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassitude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

NOW YOU CAN HAVE Air Conditioned REFRIGERATION

Fresh, pure air . . . constantly circulated at just the right temperature and humidity to keep your food in perfect condition. That's modern air-conditioned refrigeration with ice!

Odorless, Tasteless Refrigeration!

Odorless . . . because the constantly changing air refreshes the interior of the modern ice refrigerator, thus removing strong odors. This air-conditioning process makes it possible to place, in open vessels, butter or milk, in the same storage space with onions, cabbage, or other foods with a distinctive odor. The air-washing effect of the melting ice carries all odors out of your refrigerator. Each food retains its own individual flavor. Ask your ice dealer to demonstrate this new method of refrigeration to you.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

THE LORD'S SUPPER

International Sunday School Lesson
for May 26, 1935

GOLDEN TEXT: "This do in remembrance of me."—1 Cor. 11:24.
(Lesson Text: Matt. 26:17-30)

The entire Protestant Church observes the Lord's Supper in one form or another. It is the only sacrament which Jesus began himself and our lesson text gives us the account of its origin from Matthew's gospel. Its various titles are reviewed by Dr. Wilbur M. Smith as follows: (1) "The Lord's Supper is a phrase definitely used once by the Apostle Paul (1 Corinthians 11:20); (2) "The Communion," derived also from the words of the Apostle Paul (1 Corinthians 10:16); (3) "The Eucharist," meaning literally, "that for which we are thankful," from the word eucharisteas, meaning "to give thanks"; used by our Lord in Matt. 26:27; (4) "The breaking of bread," from the phrase used in Acts 2:42, 46; 20:7, 11; 1 Corinthians 10:16; (5) "The sacrament"; this is not a Biblical word but came into use early in the Church, and by the Protestant part of Christendom. It includes both baptism and the Lord's Supper, though when it is used by itself it almost always refers to the latter. (6) The Roman Catholic word for this service, "The Mass," has no scriptural foundation whatever, and its obscure origin need not be entered into at this time.

"It is needful that we think ourselves back into that night, before we can obtain a right approach to the Supper of our Lord," says J. H. Jowett. "It is a dark and awful night, and its circumstances gave the setting to the solemn counsel of the Saviour. This holy Supper takes us back to a historical event. It takes us back through the days of two thousand years to an upper room where Jesus of Nazareth was sitting with twelve men; and in an atmosphere of feverish selfishness talking to them of his own sacrificial death. Our faith does not go back to clouds, and myth, and mystery. The Christian religion begins with historic Christ. The table of the Lord takes us back, not to an airy legend, some mythical hero, but to a flesh and blood Jesus, and to actual events happening in Jerusalem."

Jesus arranged to eat the feast of the Passover with his disciples in Jerusalem. Although there is no definite evidence some believe that the home in Jerusalem was John Mark's. At any rate the twelve gathered with Jesus the night of his arrest and on this occasion he told them that one of their number would betray him. Jesus gave bread for them to eat and wine for them to drink, using these as symbols of the gift of his own body and blood.

"The nature of a sign, or symbol, may be made clearer by two examples," says Dr. Allington. "A kiss is a sign of love; a pound note is a symbol for a certain amount of money. Neither has any value in itself: the one depends on the sentiments with which it is given, the other on the power to pay of those who issue it; and no one can doubt which is the higher kind of value. A sacrament has some of the characteristics of each kind of symbol. We have no doubt of the power behind it, but because it belongs to the higher type it depends also on the good faith of those who receive."

"Since the whole Passover was a symbolical festival of remembrance; since further, the body of Jesus was still unbroken, and His blood still unshed," says H. A. W. Meyer, "none of those present at the table could have supposed that they were doing what was impossible—that is, that they were in any sense actually eating and drinking the body and blood of the Lord. Abain, the words spoken, according to Luke and Paul, in connection with the cup absolutely exclude the sense that the wine in the cup was actually itself the New Covenant. For all these reasons it can be no other than the copula of symbolical relation."

"The celebration of the supper means a deliberate recalling of the teaching and character," says J. Golder Burns, "but especially of the passion of our Lord—how he voluntarily offered himself for, and in the place of men. Christ demands, not not any mere facial conformity with a recurring convention, not the heaving of an elegant sigh, or the starting tear, all itself readily evoked, but remembrance, and ever Remembrance, until a tremor of reality strikes to the depths of our being, and borne forward by an irrepressible surge of gratitude, devotion, resolution, and consecration, we cast ourselves once again upon the bosom of 'the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me.'" harness alone was over fifty-three and a half million dollars. Boots and shoes led the list with more than a half billion. It is possible and practical as well under the instructions given farmers to produce all leather needs for the farm at a low cost and encouraging indications issue from the educational efforts now being made.

Next Monday night get in your automobile and drive to the Ad Hall school, meet these representative rural citizens and hear them discuss their problems. The program Monday night, the last meeting of the year, will embrace a study of the regional credit bank to finance crop production. The bank at Bryan has supplied more than $100,000 this year to Milam county farmers at a low rate of interest.

The plan calls for a permanent bank for credits. Farmers who patronize the bank become a part of the organization and thus make possible, under proper methods, a permanent source of credit. The idea is new and comparatively few farmers know of its availability. It will be the aim of the meeting Monday night to bring all possible information to show advantages from this regional credit bank. The plan was set up by government aid when banks declined to make agricultural loans in sufficient scope to accommodate agriculture. Within a given period the government hopes to retire from this phase of business but not until the credit associations have become able and sufficiently strong to exist on their own resources.

Rogers stampedes excitement into his small town, tries his hand at match-making, leads an army of veteran hill-billy hog-callers into battle, fights a frolicsome duel using wisecracks for every pistol bullet of his adversary.

Sol M. Wurtzel produced this Fox Film Picture, which George Marshall directed. The screen play is by Lamar Trotti, who collaborated on the script of "Judge Priest."

Witticisms pungent as any Will himself conceals, leave his lips in this picture. They deal with politics, women, rusticity, wealth, self-praise, love, youth and age.

In the fine supporting cast are such screen personalities as Rochelle Hudson, Richard Cromwell, George Barbier, Jane Darwell, Slim Somerville, Sterling Holloway, Thomas Beck, Roger Imhof, Charles Sellon, John Bradford and Ruth Gillette.

students. The school board has supplemented the appropriation of the city council and the salary of the new faculty member has been guaranteed.

All students and parents interested in music should get in touch with Mr. Cox at once so that the new system may be inaugurated on as large a scale as possible beginning July 1. Mr. Cox will have two playing bands in the school next year. The Junior band will be a feed for the main organization and indications were that Cameron would have the largest aggregation of musicians in this section of Texas under able leadership.

LIBERTY

Miss Irene Zalesky Becomes Bride Of L. J. Raska In Wedding Ceremony Here Tuesday St. Monica's Catholic Church

A wedding of interest to many in Cameron and throughout Central Texas occurred here Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Monica's Catholic Church when Miss Irene Zalesky became the bride of L. J. Raska. Rev. Geo. Apel, pastor of St. Monica's read the nuptial mass in a brilliant and impressive ring ceremony.

Only relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was beautifully dressed in white satin. Her veil was of turban style, with a pearl effect around the head. She carried a bouquet of white calla lilies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zalesky, a prominent family of this city. Her father has been in the dry goods business in Cameron for a number of years. The bride was born and reared in this city and graduated from Yoe High school.

Miss Mary Ann Raska of Rosenberg, sister of the bride groom and Arthur Zalesky, brother of the bride attended the couple in the wedding. Miss Raska wore a pink imported lace frock with pink accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Raska is one of the young successful business men of Cameron and has many friends here who will be interested to know of his marriage to Miss Zalesky. For several years he has been engaged in the oil business in Cameron and was reared in this section.

After the ceremony, a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zalesky, with only relatives present.

Mr. and Mrs. Raska have a host of friends in Cameron. He has been manager of the Horned Frog Service in the City for several years. They left for a honeymoon trip to Corpus Christi. They will make their home in Cameron.

Miss Nadine Bragg Becomes Bride of Sergt. William North of San Francisco

Miss Nadine Bragg and Sgt. William S. North of San Francisco were quietly married Thursday morning, May 9th at 9 o'clock at the home of Rev. and Mrs. N. D. Timmerman, the pastor reading the ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate family of the bride.

Miss Bragg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bragg of Cameron and was reared here and after completing her high school work, attended Baylor University at Waco and later attended State University of California at Berkeley. It was on this trip that Miss Bragg met Sgt. North and a romance began that culminated at the marriage altar. Miss Bragg for the past several years has been teaching school at the Ada Henderson school here, and has made many close friends who regret to give her up, but wish for her a life of happiness wherever she may go. She was attired in navy blue sheer crepe with accessories to match and wore a gardina corsage.

Sgt. North has been stationed at Fort Nason, San Francisco for some time.

After a few weeks Sgt. and Mrs. North will leave for San Francisco where they will keep house in an apartment, ready for the bride.

Joe J. Heitman Is Home For Visit To Family and Friends

Joe J. Heitman, a native of Milam County, and reared in Cameron, who for the past ten years has lived in Venezuela, arrived last week for a vacation with his mother and family. Mr. Heitman is an employee of the Standard Oil Company and has made a success of his work.

Mr. Heitman has made several return visits home, flying both ways. He stopped over four nights on his way here this time and visited many interesting places in Panama and Mexico and encountered a thrilling passage on the air when coming this time, but declares it is the only way to travel great distances. While living in Venezuela he has had the best of health and is pleased with his work and place.

METHODIST MISSIONARY

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met in the church Monday afternoon for Mission study. Mrs. Robert Terry and Mrs. Lena Baskin presented "The Transformation of Chinatown," from the book "Orientals in American Life," by Albert W. Palmer.

Next Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the W. M. S. will meet in the church for a parent education study. The subject for discussion will be: "Christian Living for the Child."

SHOWER

On Tuesday night Mrs. Fred McLerran was hostess to 19 guests who gathered at her home to bring gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crouch, who had their home destroyed by fire recently. Tea and guest towels were embroidered by those present and these were presented to Mrs. Crouch along with many other gifts. The hostess served sandwiches, potato chips, cakes and Coca-Cola.

Mrs. Watt Skinner of Rogers visited relatives in Cameron Monday.

Banquet Is Tendered Band Director Here

A banquet was given Monday night at the Ada Henderson school for the Cameron Band and its director, Francis Cox and wife.

The banquet was given by the band parents organization and came as a surprise to the members of the band and the director. Plate favors were small pictures of the band and its director. A set of dishes consisting of 54 pieces were given to Mr. and Mrs. Cox.

Talks were made by Superintendent E. A. Perrin, J. W. Haygood, president of the band-parents, and Chas. Brady.

'LIFE BEGINS AT 40' WILL ROGERS FILM

Homely wit, as humorous as any that Will Rogers himself creates as America's home spun philosopher, bestrew his newest Fox Film picture "Life Begins at 40," the fun shaken comedy that comes May 19 and 20 to the Milam Theatre.

The cowboy star is cast as a droll country newspaper editor who injects big time excitement into small town folk. He throws the strong light of hilarity and good sense on friend and foe alike.

From his mouth come some apt gems on life, love, politics, square shooting, contentment.

On age, Will Rogers says in "Life Begins at 40" that "when you get to be forty your mind sort of begins to chew its cud. You stop going off half cocked and learn moderation. That's when you begin to live."

How the World Changes

The humorist adds: "At twenty, we don't care what the world thinks of us. At thirty, we worry about what it thinks of us. At forty, we're sure it doesn't think of us."

On self praise, he opines than "hen eggs is more popular than duck eggs, because a hen cackles to advertise its product."

On current politics, his thought is that "if them quintuplets up yonder was born in this country, two of 'em would have to be plowed under."

About the business of successful writing, regard this curio:

"When I started out to write and misspelled a few words, people said I was just plain ignorant. Soon as I got to misspelling all of 'em they discovered I was a humorist and said I was quaint."

Remember, this is not Will Rogers confessing the secret of his success, but the country editor giving the low-down.

"Life Begins at 40" was suggested by the Walter B. Pitkin book success.

Direction is by George Marshall, the production by Sol M. Wurtzel, and the screen play by Lamar Trotti.

Around Will Rogers is grouped an unusual cast made up of Rochelle Hudson and Richard Cromwell in the juvenile romantic leads, George Barbier, Jane Darwell, Slim Summerville, Sterling Holloway, Thomas Beck, Roger Imhof, Charles Sellon, John Bradford and Ruth Gillette.

When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Louisa's Letter

IS YOUR HEART'S DESIRE WORTHWHILE?

A great many girls and boys are approaching a most important time in their lives. When they leave school and go out into the world to make a living they are assuming more responsibilities than most of them realize.

The ones who are most likely to succeed will be those who have a definite plan; those who have made up their minds what they wish to do and are prepared to make every effort to gain that end.

But before they definitely decided on a career it would be well to realize its cost and whether its success would be worth the sacrifice necessary. I remember reading of a woman in some recent article who was obsessed with the idea of reaching the top socially. It seems that she had lived among the very rich in some summer colony, when she was very young. Being comparatively poor, she had not associated with these people but she had become unduly impressed with their manner of life and she had then and there decided that she would one day be one of them, regardless of the cost.

And she did gain her heart's desire, but as she admitted, it cost her two divorces, the loss of her daughter and part of her self respect. She ended her article by saying that she would never consent for her daughter to endure the slurs and be a bootlicker as she had been, but that she was content with having done what she had because it was the one thing she wanted.

I, personally think she could have bent her efforts to something more worthwhile. For after all, what has she really got? Happiness and contentment are the things most humans work for. The love of creating and making of money are but means to these ends. If we succeed in either of these things and have sacrificed so much for them that we have neither happiness nor content, it seems to me that we have defeated the very result we hoped to achieve.

But if we can really do the work we love to do, no matter how hard, we have taken a long step on the road to happiness.

So, if I were a girl or a boy just starting out to make my way in the world I should select some work in which I was really interested and then I would go at it with all my heart and soul. But I shouldn't let it rob me of other things essential to my happiness, even though I failed to become quite as famous or as rich as I had hoped to be.

Yours,
LOUISA.

Highway Worker Killed On Road Near Thorndale

John W. McDonald, aged 36, employed on highway construction work just east of Thorndale, was instantly killed early last Friday morning on the highway near his rooming place. The body was discovered about 4 a. m. lying in the highway and an inquest was held over the body by Justice of the Peace Clement resulted in a verdict of death by a car passing over his chest. McDonald had been employed on the road construction work here for about two weeks according to the road contractors and was a son of N. N. McDonald of Edna, a grocery merchant of that city. Following the inquest the body was turned over to A. J. Urban Sons undertakers who prepared the body for burial and conveyed it to Edna in their ambulance where the funeral services were held on Saturday.

Investigations by local officers has thus far failed to lead to the identity of the car driver responsible for his death, which it is believed was an accident. Besides his parents, the deceased is survived by his wife and two small children, also one brother, Neal, all of Edna, Texas.

Hughes Family Holds Its First Reunion in 24 Years With 19 Present

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hughes at Milano was the scene last week of a reunion of the Hughes family—the first time in 24 years that all members of the family had been together. The reunion was featured by a big barbecue dinner, with 19 members of the clan present, including Grandmother H. E. Hughes, 78 of Temple.

Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hughes, Temple; Mrs. Lillie Bobo and daughter, Juanita, Temple; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hughes and son, Palestine; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hughes and daughter, San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hoyt, Hearne; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hughes, Taylor, and Mrs. Lou Brown of Ohio.

The family consists of the aged mother, five brothers and one sister.

BURGLARS SACK STORES AND OPEN MAIL POUCH

The town of San Gabriel, sight of an early Spanish Mission, was virtually sacked by burglars Saturday night. Three stores including the town's postoffice were entered. In the postoffice a mail pouch was rifled. The robberies were reported to Sheriff R. M. Kennedy and up to Tuesday two negroes had been arrested in the investigation made by the Sheriff.

The Clark store in which the postoffice is in the back, was entered and about $75 or $100 in groceries and dry goods was taken. In the postoffice department, a mail pouch was opened and mail scattered over the floor. Burglars made their entrance in this place by breaking a glass out of the window and crawling in. A postoffice inspector from Austin was called to make an investigation. Entrance was also made through a window in the W. H. Camp filling station. Quite a bit of small change and some cigarettes were missed from this store.

The Cass filling station was also robbed of about $5.00 and other small items. Entrance was made through the front door of the Cass filling station, after the lock was broken off.

The burglaries were discovered on Sunday morning. Two negroes having been seen in the vicinity of San Gabriel at several different times Saturday and Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Brewers Will Pay Texas Farmers Big Profits On Barley

New York, N. Y., May 14.—Farmers of Texas will enjoy the largest profits in twenty years from their barley crop this fall because of increased consumption of beer. According to estimates made public today by the United States Brewers' Association, Texas will market 2,856,000 bushels of barley, one third of which will be purchased by the brewing industry for the filling of 315,000,000 bottles of beer. This will represent two per cent of the minimum total of 50,000,000 barrels of the amber malt beverage which is the production goal of brewers this year.

Figures giving the Texas farmers' barley planting intentions for this year, based on last year's average of 14 bushels per acre, reveal that 204,000 acres of land will produce 2,856,000 bushels. Last year Texas planted out only 189,000 acres to barley, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture reports, but for 1935 will increase the acreage to this grain eight per cent because of the increased activities of the beer industry.

Doing the job

Recently there came to the desk of the publishers of this newspaper a comment upon the size, appearance and general news value of the Herald.

It goes without saying that this good estimate was appreciated. It is one among a number of estimates that have been placed upon this newspaper from other sections. Our pride will be pardonable even though we say the Herald as compared to other Texas newspapers, has no equal in its field of service to the community.

Doing the job has been as much a part of our service in the years we have labored for Cameron as that of any other individual or industry. It comes, therefore, as a matter of peculiar interest to the Herald to know that even beyond the borders of Milam County this old newspaper is setting the pace by giving an example of service.

There are always a few who do not realize the value of a newspaper such as the Herald. They become accustomed to its make up, its policy and accept as a matter of course the thousands of things it does each year for the community. Thousands of columns of free matter carried for the benefit of the community. Co-operation in every way, supply a service no other business institution can give. Getting the job done is our first consideration.

Compare the Herald with other Texas newspapers in its field. Wherever it goes, comparisons are made. Cameron gets the credit for a live, up to date community because of the appearance of Cameron newspapers that go into other sections of the state. So by reason of this faultless presentation your Ambassador, the Herald, sets a good example to the outside world by getting the job done.

If this appeals to you, as it must to every thinking man and woman, show your appreciation for what others are saying beyond the borders of Cameron about Cameron Newspaper Service.

BAPTISTS IN CITY ENJOY BANQUET

A banquet was given at the First Baptist Church on Thursday night for general officers of various organizations of the church. Dr. J. Howard Williams of Dallas, state mission secretary, was the principal speaker.

Rev. N. D. Timmerman, pastor of the local Baptist Church, was toastmaster for the banquet. The object of the banquet was to enlist the officers of the church in tithing and to make plans for a church membership drive for tithing on June 1.

Streamers formed a rainbow and at the end in the "pots of gold" were found verses on tithing. These were read. Miss Alice McGehee was chairman of the committee on decorations.

Musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. W. E. Kuehl, a solo; a quartette composed of Misses Velma Reese, Arnette Ryan, Maurine Leonard and Laurita Evans; a quartette composed of Ray Burke, Frank Newton, M. G. Cox and Ray Duckworth. Miss Helen Flinn played the accompaniment for the special numbers.

Mrs. Conn Miller was chairman of the committee for the menu.

GAUSE H. D. CLUB

The Gause Home Demonstration Club met May 7 at the home of Mrs. A. R. Y. Ealand. Sixteen members and four visitors were present. The visitors were Mrs. S. O. Shaw, Mrs. Y. M. Shaw, Mrs. Harlan and Miss Elsie Hauptfleisch. Mrs. Pitt read the report of the last meeting. It was decided that the members of the H. D. Club accept the invitation of the Girls 4-H Club and be guests at their achievement day program to be held at the home of Mrs. Jim Buffington June 4. After the ten minutes recreation program Miss Strange gave a demonstration on how to use vegetables for salads or relishes. Many left overs like string beans, carrots, peas may be combined, dressed up with green pepper rings or sliced red radishes or sliced beets, served on a lettuce leaf. A spoonful of boiled salad dressing added will make a pleasing dish. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. B. Self.

from SUNDOWN

- No lights all day!
- None after midnight!
- No electric ironing!
- No electric refrigeration!
- No radio all day!
- No electric Cookery!
- Industries would be idle!
- Stores in confusion!
- Business would be paralyzed!
- Drudgery for the housewife!
- Health endangered and life imperiled!

IMAGINE the utter confusion that would result today from an old style "Sundown 'til Midnight" schedule of electric service.

Even a brief flight of the imagination causes one to shudder at such unthinkable conditions. Electric service . . . ALL day and ALL night . . . has become as natural as walking. It is so constantly useful to people that its presence is taken for granted.

Yet, it is only a few brief years since Texas Power & Light Company transmission line electric service displaced the "Sundown 'til Midnight" type in many Texas communities. In fact, 171 of those Texas towns now served by this Company were without any kind of electric service until its transmission lines were extended to them. No yardstick has yet been devised to measure the full benefits of transmission line electric service.

However, the average cost of domestic electric light service to Texas Power & Light Company customers has been reduced more than 35% during the past ten years.

All of these improvements which so greatly benefit Texas people . . . all of these extensions of service to Texas towns and Texas people . . . have been made and put into effect VOLUNTARILY BY THIS COMPANY, with the financial help of its holding company, and NOT at the instance of governmental decree!

During the same period when these vast improvements were being made in electric service . . . at constantly declining cost to the people . . . taxes were soaring, and the cost of living moved up and down, and is now on a very sharp upward trend. The declining cost of electric service has helped to pull down the average cost of living, and AT THE SAME TIME HAS RAISED THE STANDARD OF LIVING OUT OF ALL PROPORTION TO ITS LOW COST.

AND THAT IS NOT ALL . . . still further reductions in its cost to the people will be made just as rapidly as sound business practice will permit.

Success, Envy and Money.

One of the strangest phenomena of human nature is the trait that impels some people to envy a successful person. We have seen evidences of this spirit in Cameron and elsewhere.

It would seem that mankind would respect a man who succeeds in the tasks he undertakes because, as a rule, it requires hard work and energy and other good qualities to be successful. That less fortunate people like to see failure follow triumph and watch with greedy eyes the apparent downfall of a high standard is, it seems, one of the unfavorable commentaries of present day life.

While we deplore this existing antipathy to well-to-do and successful people we realize that it has its foundations in the current, popular belief that much success is ill gotten and rests upon laurels unfairly won. The judgment of the average man and woman does not rest upon the height of the bank balance but also takes into consideration the verdict of society upon the methods of the man who has accumulated a competence.

We would not have the young people of Milam county who read this to believe that the dollars amassed are the symbols of success. While very often a fickle popular regard is based upon the size of a man's bank balance there are evidences of respect and attitudes of honor that come to men only through lives of service in others. These are not to be won by the dollar miser with all his bags of wealth.

Brings Complications

Agricultural products in this country, for the major part are being curtailed in order to prevent overproduction. Farmers now on the land can produce so much that the market is over supplied and prices tumbled to disastrous levels. Yet, it is planned to "rehabilitate" many city dwellers by establishing them on small farms.

This policy must be carefully managed. As recently said by Chester A. Davis, "If society is going to make the agricultural land the shock absorber for the refugees of industry, then it must give bond to those now engaged in agriculture, together with the additional numbers to undertake it, so that they will be able to operate on levels enjoyed by other social classes." He spoke for the agricultural arm of the Federal Government.

Should Eat Grass.

Man may not be wiser than animals in his refusal to eat grass according to recommendations of one scientist in an address to the American Chemical Society. C. F. Schnabel thinks grass a good substitute for spinach and carrots, especially for those who cannot afford green vegetables when they are expensive.

This gentleman reported the discovery that young cereal grasses, such as oats, wheat, barley and rye, when cut prior to jointing in twenty days, had a biologic value from two hundred to five hundred per cent greater than any of the twenty common vegetables. The dried grass, he says, smells and tastes like malted milk. As far as we are personally concerned, even before the scientist made his report, we could have told anybody that grass would be preferable to spinach.

Here's a Scoop!

Score the Herald with a scoop! This is probably the first swat the fly editorial that you have read in 1935.

Well, it isn't too early to begin the campaign to destroy the carriers of typhoid. Get your swatter and get busy. Score a scoop yourself by taking this offensive, see that your premises contain no place to harbor flies and that none are allowed to linger in your home.

It is much wiser to spend a few dollars on screens and health preventative measures than to pay for medicine and professional services.

About Tightwads.

Cameron will never be built by the donations of tightwads.

When we say that we have no intention of saying that it is the duty of any man, rich or poor, to contribute money to causes in accordance with the public expectation. What a man does with money, honestly and legally acquired, is a private matter in which no public committee has any right to dictate.

However, a town must have generous men and women in its midst to go ahead. The name "tightwad" has been set aside for those who do not prefer to chip in on a popular movement. The choice is with the individual, who has the right to decide. If he or she wishes to keep what he or she has, without thinking of the public, they have that undisputed right, but then, it is humorous for them to object when the rebuffed public good recoils and the "tightwad" label is applied to them.

What About It?

The friends of peace in Milam county, and they are legion, might do some intelligent studying of the world situation and less talking about keeping out of war.

They should realize, to begin, that competent and experienced observers are of the opinion that war cannot be avoided in Europe unless some economic concessions are made to Germany and Italy, and they might as well include Japan in their calculations.

Do any of our pacifists in this country assume the responsibility for a live and let live policy among the nations of the earth? Do our nationalists, who prate about foreign entanglements and boast our isolationist philosophy know the answer to the charge of Mr. Frank Simonds, who intimates that our tariff, our war debt policy and the scuttling of the London economic conference have done more to bring about another war than anything else?

Spies of Business.

All of us have read about military spies in various countries and no doubt been intrigued by the recent swap of A-1 spies between Germany and Poland.

However, it is not so generally known that in this country there are business spies, who get into an organization for the purpose of giving away information to competitors. A case like this comes to light in a trial in the Mid-west, where a woman testified in court that she obtained a job as stenographer in one company in order to report to a private detective hired by another. She said she sent copies of letters, balance sheets and details of various business deals in order to keep her employer informed.

What is the answer? Not necessarily to abuse business, but to rigidly adhere to ethics in our own business conduct. Surely, by this time, everybody in Milam county knows that there have been rotten business practices in the United States and realizes that no laws will ever be devised to check all rascality. Maybe the pressure of public opinion might do some good; let's try it.

No Recognition.

Neither Great Britain nor America has recognized the state of Manchukuo set up by Japan in what was formerly a part of China.

The British recently wrote the Japanese Government a diplomatic note protesting against the creation of an oil monopoly in their puppet state warning that London held the Japanese responsible because "far from using its undoubted authority" to uphold the open door it "has attempted to justify a clear breach of these assurances."

Interesting to note is the fact that the British note carefully avoided the use of the word "Manchukuo." It said that certain treaties were "binding on the present regime in Manchuria and were expressly recognized by the latter when it was established." The British note referred to officials of the new order as "the Manchurian authorities."

Great Britain, however, like the

Mix This At Home With

LEMON JUICE

To Stop Agony of RHEUMATIC PAIN

If pains from Rheumatism or Neuritis are driving you crazy you can get relief with a simple remedy that you mix yourself, at home, with Lemon Juice. Simply go to your druggist and ask for a package of the REV PRESCRIPTION and mix it as directed, adding the juice of four lemons. You will then have a FULL QUART of the finest medicine money can buy for your pain. It costs only a few cents a day, and will often bring relief from pain in 48 hours. Hundreds of sufferers right in your own locality acclaim the glorious and amazing way it stops the pain. The REV PRESCRIPTION is pleasant and harmless to take, and you mix it right in your own home. No fuss, no bother, no cooking. Just add boiling water. Money back guarantee. Your druggist carries REV in stock or can get it for you from his jobber on short notice. Before you suffer a day longer or take a chance with "dope" or drugs, why not give this lemon juice treatment a chance? See your druggist today!

United States, might as well recognize that notes will have no effect on the Japanese. The Japs will continue to do as they please, disregarding treaties as far as necessary, unless and until some country willing to fight makes a military issue of the quarrel.

Careless Management.

The accidental printing of statements by military officers to a House committee in Washington caused quite a stir. One general, speaking for the establishment of aviation bases in the United States, referred to a camouflaged base near Canada. Inasmuch as the Rush-Bagot Treaty between the two nations prohibits fortifications this utterance was likely to cause embarrassment. Another officer said that it would be necessary for America to seize certain French and British Islands near our continent in case of war.

These statements were made in executive session and were supposed to have been kept secret. Through some mishap every word that these military advisors spoke was published. President Roosevelt, as Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy promptly denied that this country intended to violate its treaty or to take an offensive act against a friendly power. Notwithstanding, however, the publicity given the statements was unfortunate.

When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C.

"I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

John Deere KL Cultivator

THE STRONGLY-BUILT CULTIVATOR THAT DOES GOOD WORK IN NARROW OR WIDE ROWS

The John Deere KL is just the right cultivator for you if you want one cultivator that will do high quality work in a variety of row crops. It can be quickly and easily adjusted to any width of row from 30 to 48 inches.

You will like the easy handling of the KL. You can quickly raise or lower rigs, fix depth, space rigs, regulate shovels or sweeps, and dodge in crooked rows—from the seat, without stopping the team. The John Deere lever spread arch holds the rigs rigidly at the width set with the lever.

You'll like the sturdy construction of the KL—axle parts are heavy and strong; the frame holds its shape—will not sag.

Be ready with a new KL this season.

For Bad Feeling
Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lufe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theodor's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

JUNIOR AND SENIOR
BANQUET HELD HERE

The annual Junior-Senior banquet of Yoe High School was held Friday evening May 10 in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

The table was in Y design and attractively decorated. A miniature oil derrick centered the table with decorations of the senior class colors, red orange and yellow. Bowls of the chosen flowers rested at intervals down the table and were connected with crepe paper streamers in the class colors. Place cards were small booklets bearing the menu, aided the students in finding their places around the board where covers were laid for 110, which included several of the school faculty.

Technical terms of the oil field, wells and government terms of the oil situation, were used by the speakers, the driller, pumper, etc.

Among those taking part on the program were: John Calvin Haygood, W. C. Weise, Clinton Breeding, Shirley McLean, Harold Jackson, John Martin, Hilliard Thomas, E. A. Perrin, Billy Gillis, Robert Sloan Ryan, Theresa Manning, Nancy Newton, Mary Helen Baldwin, Inez Smith, Amelia Freeman and Katherine Mode.

The evening included a high school dance at the Country Club which followed the banquet and program. Missionary Society of the church served the menu, which consisted of chicken dinner with salads and ice drink.

Air Conditioned
REFRIGERATION

Fresh, pure air... constantly circulated at just the right temperature and humidity to keep your food in perfect condition. That's modern air-conditioned refrigeration with ice!

Odorless, Tasteless Refrigeration!

Odorless... because the constantly changing air freshens the interior of the modern ice refrigerator, thus removing strong odors. This air-conditioning process makes it possible to place, in open vessels, butter or milk, in the same storage space with onions, cabbage, or other foods with a distinctive odor. The air-washing effect of the melting ice carries all odors out of your refrigerator. Each food retains its own individual flavor. Ask your ice dealer to demonstrate this new method of refrigeration to you.

BASEBALL'S FISTIC OUTBURST.

MR. FAN'S NEW ASSISTANT (?)

GOLF'S NATIONAL OPEN.

OMAHA TAKES DERBY.

OLYMPIC TRACK, BOXING PLANS WEAN CAPTAINS TENNIS TEAM. IN SHORT—

Shades of the "good old days" returned to the diamond recently in Chicago when an alleged attempt at spiking resulted in a fight involving several players on the rosters of the Cubs and Pirates. Cookie Lavagetto, Pirate second baseman, was sliding into second base on a double when Bill Jurgess, covering the bag, is said to have stepped on Lavagetto twice and the latter took a swing at Jurgess, with the result that members of both nines rushed onto the field, some to stop the fighting and others to take it up. Before the melee subsided, Guy Bush, Pirate hurler, and Roy Joiner were engaged in a fight of their own, halted only when Bush was thrown to the ground by teammates.

The fracas brings to mind the regular occurrence of fistic battles that accompanied many arguments in baseball days gone by. Until early in the 1933 season, when Ben Chapman, Earl Whitehill and Buddy Meyer turned a ball game into a pugilistic scrap, baseball seemed to have left off such outbursts as part of the game's color. With the lack of aggressiveness also vanished much of baseball's daring exploits, principally in the base running. However, with the apparent return of aggressiveness as an asset to a team comes a new base stealing area, headed by the modern Ty Cobb and Eddie Collins, Bill Werber, Ben Chapman Jo-Jo White and others have forced many pitchers in the past two years to device trick deliveries that force the potential stealer to stick to his base.

An incident arising in the course of Hal Schumacher's recent one hit victory for the Giants has caused ball club owners seriously to consider installing an amplifying system for their parks controlled from the official scorer's station in the press box. In the case mentioned, the only hit Schumacher allowed came in the early innings, and was of such a scratchy variety that the fans in attendance knew not whether Jorgens was credited with a hit or Bartell with an error. Consequently, most of the spectators had to read their papers to find out whether the game was a no-hitter or a one-hitter.

Should the system be installed in many parks as proposed by the scribes, the customers could follow the game with their score cards, the press box announcer removing all doubt from their minds as to whether Babe Whasis should get a hit or Johnny Whatshisname an error on that last hot one. The chief objection to the proposal of the scribes is that a public announcement of an error might hurt the caliber of the player's performances during the rest of the afternoon, especially where a rookie was concerned.

Nearly one thousand golfers who had hopes of qualifying for play in the National Open to be held at Oakmont, Pa., have been disappointed and 162 places are left for actual play. This year saw 1,127 entrants for the tourney, including the forty players exempt from qualification—the third highest number since 1924. The sectional medal play, held Monday, May 13, at various courses throughout the country, eliminated all but 122 of the 1,087 who took part in the preliminaries. Those 122 will combine their skill with the forty exempt entries at Oakmont starting on June 6 to determine the National Open Champ. Olin Dutra, the defending champion, will be among the shotmakers, and will, of course, be striving to retain his crown.

The most colorful of all races, the Kentucky Derby, was taken this year by Omaha, son of Gallant Fox, just five years after the latter thundered home first on the same track. Omaha won by a length and a half over second place Roman Soldier, and was far ahead of Nellie Flag, the filly popular favorite. Today, winter book favorite, and other horses well up in the pre-race betting. Omaha's victory will undoubtedly establish him as a threat in all other races he enters this year.

Although the Olympic contests are still more than a year away, Uncle Sam's nephews are exhibiting performances in the present track and field meets that smack of Olympic prospects who have held the spotlight in various dual meets and carnivals are Bill Graber, sturdy West Coast pole vaulter who recently bettered his own world record made in Olympic try outs in 1932 of 14 feet, 4 and 3-8 inches with a vault of 14 feet, 5 5-8 inches; Jesse Owens, Ohio State's sensational Negro track and field star; Yale's Keith Brown, Graber's foremost rival; Baby Jack Torrance, Tulane's holder of the world mark of 62 feet 1-4 inch for the 12 pound shot, and other track and field stars including Glenn Hardin, Anton Kishon, Eulace Peacock, and Herman Neugass.

Olympic boxing try outs will be held next March in a two day tournament at the University of Virginia. The tourney will be under the direction of James G. Driver, athletic director at the university and member of the Olympic boxing committee. The selection is an appropriate one, as Virginia has produced some of the strongest college boxing teams ever put forth in competition.

The selection of Joseph W. Wear as non playing captain of the United States 1935 Davis Cup tennis team virtually completes the naming of the squad that will make the trip to England later as cup contenders. Players definitely selected include Wilmer Allison, Sidney Wood, Donald Budge, and Gene Mako, with Johnny Van Ryn as a probable member of the squad.

Vernon Wilshire, rookie from the fold of Connie Mack, joins Cy Blanton and John Whitehead as a recruit who has pitched consistently good ball during the first month of the season. . . . Wilshire has a two hit game to his credit. . . . Max Baer has started his training for the Braddock bout in June at his camp in Asbury Park, N. J. . . . An almost sure bet for a future major league star is Charlie Keller, hitting between .500 and .600 in some fifteen games for the University of Maryland. . . . Bozie Berger, of the Cleveland Indians was plucked from the same spot two years ago. . . . Chances for a Schmeling-Baer battle in Europe have been considerably reduced as a result of the International Boxing union's decision to deprive Baer of his world title, which means absolutely nothing in the United States. . . . Jack Doyle, famous quoter of betting odds, has brought down odds on the Cincinnati team from 1,000 to 1 to 100 to 1. . . . He says it is to keep away bothersome two dollar bets, but maybe the real reason is the outstanding play so far of the Reds' five rookie regulars. . . . Members of the Washington Senators threaten to become professional prophets. . . . Ninety percent of the players favored Omaha in the Kentucky Derby, though the Bellair stud was not the favorite, and are now bragging on their expertness as seers.

Mark Koenig signed for utility service with the Giants, is proving himself a valuable player. . . . His work at second, where he has been subbing for Hughie Critz, has been more than gratifying to Manager Terry, while his consistent swatting has kept him in the running for league hitting honors since the start of the pennant chase. . . . Manager Charlie Grimm wishes he had Dolph Camilli back with the Cubs. . . . Camilli, now with the Phils, could easily take care of Grimm's first base problem. . . . Latest available figures show Dolph to be hitting well above .300 and leading his league in two offensive departments. . . . Eddie Tolan, one of the world's fastest sprinters, really burns up the track, according to his mother who says that one who scrutinizes the path after one of Eddie's dashes will find only cinders remaining. . . . As a result of an eye operation, Sam Langford, considered by many to be the world's greatest fighter of his day, is able to see the light of day after eight years of blindness. . . . Although Helen Wills Moody has stated no definite plans of returning to tennis competition, her friends believe that she will make a sterling comeback this summer in the big Eastern tourneys.

Coolerator

The Air Conditioned Refrigerator

Keeping food cold is only one-fourth of the job done by the Coolerator . . .

YOU expect a good refrigerator to keep food cold. But now expect much more! Coolerator—the only air conditioned refrigerator—goes far beyond constant cold. The Coolerator patented air conditioning chamber keeps air healthfully humidified—prevents drying out of foods. It washes and purifies the air constantly. It keeps this clean, moist air flowing gently through the food compartment, where it absorbs and carries off all odors several times a minute, preventing the mingling of food flavors. Because it uses ice in a totally different way, re-icing once every four to seven days is enough. Only five minutes to make all the clear, taste-free ice cubes you want. Washington News For Milam County Farmers

From Cameron Herald's Washington Bureau

WHEAT GROWERS TO VOTE.
FARMERS AS EXPORTERS.
APRIL RAINS RELIEVE.
FARM EXPORTS INCREASE.

Wheat farmers on the 25th of this month will express themselves on a new wheat production agreement to take the place of the present one which expires with this year's crop.

While the voting in some sections may be a week earlier most of the growers will have the opportunity to express themselves next week. Preparations for the referendum have been about completed and many meetings are being held to explain, discuss and debate the present program.

It is pointed out that the normal yield of the potential acreage in this county is far above the domestic needs and that, in recent years, in spite of low prices, foreign tariffs, quotas and other bars to export, there has not been a sufficient demand for anything like normal production. Exports estimate that if we decide to give up our foreign wheat markets entirely we will have to retire 8,500,000 acres of wheat land permanently.

Moreover, advocates of the present system point out that the processing tax is to do for wheat growers what our tariff laws do for manufacturers, allow them to get more for their product from domestic consumers.

The present outlook is that the growers will favor a new program by a considerable majority. There is opposition, of course. Some is political and some is from the processing and distributing middlemen, who want volume above all else. Moreover, there is a disgruntled wheat grower, dissatisfied with some detail of the present program, who feel that while the program may be fair in principle, they have been discriminated against.

Francis B. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State, in charge of the negotiations of reciprocal trade agreements, recently pointed out that even in 1933, when our foreign sales had shrunk, we exported 66 per cent of our cotton, 39 per cent of our leaf tobacco, 25 per cent of lard, 25 per cent of our prepared milk, 46 per cent of our dried fruits, 28 per cent of our canned fruits, 58 per cent of our turpentine, 41 per cent of our refined cotton and 71 per cent of our resin.

This, he suggests, is quite a stake for the farmer in foreign trade. He estimates that elimination of our export trade would mean that 40,000,000 acres of land must be abandoned and that 3,200,000 of the farm population must get money from somewhere else to live.

The month of April brought plentiful rains to the northern Great Plains, including Wyoming and Northern Colorado although the drought still persisted at the end of the month from southwestern Kansas and southeastern Colorado to Texas and New Mexico, according to the Weather Bureau.

More rain is needed, however, in Montana and Western North Dakota and in parts of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas, where some rain fell.

Generally, the Great Plains States are in far better shape than at the end of April in 1934, 1932 and 1931, although more rainfall is needed to replenish subsoil moisture.

In other parts of the nation there was about normal rainfall, with enough rain falling to break a dry spell which threatened to cause drought conditions along the Gulf and South Atlantic Coast.

Farm exports in March dropped to 45 per cent of the prewar volume according to a recent release of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which points out that this compares with 75 per cent in March of last year and 67 per cent in 1933.

Exports of cotton for nine months ending March 31, were 4,068,000 bales as compared with 7,176,000 bales same period of the previous year and total exports of wheat and flour were 17,632,000 bushels, or 36 per cent less than in the corresponding months of 1933-34.

Miss Frances Looney Will Be Married On July 2 To Lee Arrington of Port Lavaca In Baptist Church Ceremony In Hearne

A social event of interest to many in Cameron and over the state was the announcement party given Saturday morning at ten o'clock by Mrs. Tom Denson at her home, when she entertained with a morning coffee.

At this time the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Frances Looney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Looney, to Lee Arrington of Port Lavaca was made. The wedding will take place July 2 at the Baptist Church in Hearne. The announcement was made in tiny hand painted booklets.

This well appointed home was made more attractive by the floral decorations where a pink and blue color scheme was used, the hostess choosing pink roses, pink carnations and corn flowers that rested at pleasing points over the reception rooms.

Miss Lillie Kate Beckerman, handsomely attired in pink lace costume, received the guests at the door and invited them to the receiving line where Mrs. Denson, the hostess, attired in a spring model of gray georgette, with pink sweet pea corsage, presented Miss Looney, who was beautifully dressed in white crepe dress with maroon colored Ascot tie, and wore sweet pea corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Looney, handsomely dressed in blue sheer crepe with pink sweet pea corsage, greeted the callers.

Mrs. J. C. Martin, Mrs. G. W. Menis, Mrs. Eber Flinn, Mrs. La Bertice Robinson and Miss Winnie Henderson invited guests to the dining room where the table was laid with an imported lace cover, centered with a silver basket filled with pink carnations intermingled with tall pink burning tapers, with cathedral tapers standing at either end of the table. Mrs. Clifton Jenness, attired in ashes of roses costume, sat at the table and poured coffee. Assisting her in the diningroom were Miss Nance of Buffalo, Misses Dorothy Schiller and Helen Looney, who passed a dainty plate consisting of tiny hot cinnamon rolls, olives wrapped in broiled bacon, swedish waffles filled with fruit salad, salted cashew nuts and coffee. Miss Dorothy Blaylock presided over the hand painted guest book.

Miss Looney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Looney of Ben Arnold. After finishing high school in Cameron attended Baylor University at Waco. She is popular with a large circle of friends and for the past few years has been a member of the school faculty at Hearne, where she is now teaching.

SHARP 4-H CLUB

The Sharp 4-H Club met May 8 with Miss Strange at the home of Ruth Jennings. There were nine members present and three absent. The dresses were checked by Miss Strange. Then all the girls went into the kitchen where several sandwich spreads and relishes were made. The next meeting will be held at the school house May 22 with the sponsor, Mrs. Middleton.

SENIOR-UNDERGRADUATE FOOTBALL GAME

The Seniors and Undergraduates had a very interesting football game last Wednesday in which the future Yoemen got a chance to show their stuff and the ex-Yoemen again trod the Yoemen's gridiron. The lineup was as follows:

Yoemen		Seniors
Crawford	LE	Crawford
Triggs	LT	Martin
Mode	LG	Ross
Perrin	C	Blaylock
Stanislaw	RG	Eickenhorst
Richter	RT	Morrow
McLean	RE	Evans
S. Smith	QB	Haygood
Davis	LH	Ryan
Peck	RH	Gillis
J. McLean	FB	Hrozek

In the first quarter the Seniors kicked off, Peck taking the ball and returning it to his forty yard line. Little ground was gained by either side in the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Seniors began to show a little more progress and Ryan with a pass to Matocha chalked up a point for the Seniors. The ex-Yoemen failed to make the extra point which they attempted by passing. The pass was blocked by Joe McLean.

No scores were run up during the third quarter but the future Yoemen completed several passes and Haygood intercepted a pass.

During the fourth quarter Stuart a Milano boy was sent in and he made two line drives 1 for 8 yards and one for 5 yards. Stuart showed plenty of drive and good playing. A pass from Joe McLean to Shirley McLean tied the score.

This game marked the end of the Spring training for the future Yoemen and the end of the High School football for the Yoe High Seniors.

Nat B. Wofford spent Mother's Day here with his mother Mrs. Halie Jones Wofford.

A DHALL 4-H CLUB

Ad Hall Home Demonstration Club met Friday May 10 at the school house. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. S. D. Lawhorn and the meeting was then turned over to our song leader Miss Hamble. Songs were sung in honor of the Mothers. The secretary then called roll. There were eight members present and fourteen visitors: Mrs. Hamble, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Glass, Mrs. Loftin, Mrs. Adolph Richter, Mrs. Raymond Richter, Mrs. Thomas Merica, Mrs. Hubish, Mrs. Hebner; Misses Fannie Mae, Lois, Dorothy and Edith Routh, Powell and Albina Merica. Four new members were taken from these, Mrs. Loftin, Mrs. Merica, Miss Merica and Mrs. McDonald.

Mrs. J. O. Hughes read a paper on the history of Mother's Day. Gift suggestions for Mother's Day were made by Mrs. Lawhorn. Mrs. Frank Winkler gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Frank Marek and Mrs. Will Anderle read poems on Mother's Day.

Poems were read by Misses Annie Hamble and Edith Marak.

Mrs. Walter Powell and Miss Edith Marek were elected delegates to go to A. & M.

Refreshments were served to all the Mothers. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Frank Winkler May 17. The program will be on canned salads.

St. Michael Congregation Hear Father O'Sullivan In Mother's Day Sermon

Today is Mother's Day, a day which reveals to us something of the characteristic idealism of the American people. Whatever we may seem to be, the observance of a day like this indicates what we really are. On this day we have come home, in reality, or perhaps in dreams for some of us to Mother. Once again we are boys and girls seeing life through the pure eyes of childhood. Not long ago we were babies in her arms. As her gentle song lulled us to sleep, she thought of the years unborn, and of the place in life she would have us take. Back in her arms today we recapture that vision with her, and know that in her hopes and not our attainments we must seek our true potentialities.

What a glorious title is motherhood! That woman is indeed the real mother who has lost her life and found it in her children, and whatever her social status, whatever her educational and economic opportunities, is remembered by her children as a saint. Today we think proudly of this poor, stupid humanity of ours, because it has produced countless mothers like unto those described, and thereby shown us how very little we fall short of angels, when we are at our best.

Short of angels! There is one whose motherhood inspires us to call her even "Queen of the Angels," the Mother of Christ. Instinctively the Catholic heart turns to her today, for in her Divine motherhood all human motherhood is blessed. Civilization owes her much, womanhood owes her more. It was largely through her inspiration that womanhood was elevated to its position of respect and homage and it has held in Christian lands ever since the time of Christ. Before then, the condition of womanhood was a disgrace, she was a toy and a plaything when not a beast of burden. Needless to indicate we have even today cursed evils and diabolical practices which are also robbing our nation of the ideal woman and the ideal mother.

Our blessed Mother in Heaven is the ideal example of every virtue for the mother and for the daughter. Alone she stands, our tainted nature's solitary boast, the one spotless creature, unblemished by sin. She is the ideal, to which we aspire, the tender mother, not only of Christ, but of everyone who are not forgotten either of Bethlehem's miracle or of Calvary's tragedy. Even in this cold world a mother will not soon forget the son whom she has borne. Unlovely he may be to others, but they do not see him with a mother's eye. He may have drifted far from the innocence of childhood, he may be stained with many crimes, but still while his mother lives he holds one fast, one firm friend. He may have placed the early wrinkle on her brow, still, she remembers only that she is his mother.

Senator James A. Reed in the Hall of Congress on June 29, 1931, said: "A mother will enter prisons of shame and kiss the hand of a felon thrust through the bars. She will sit beside the accused in courts of law, when the mob jeers and the heartless machinery of Justice grinds its grist of agony and with unwavering faith maintain her child to be innocent. She will stand at the foot of the scaffold and when the trap has fallen cover the condemned body with kisses, and with flowers. It is still to her the innocent suckling she once hugged to her breast."

It is indeed humiliating and sad to see how quickly some children lose respect for that mother, sometimes even ashamed of her, and thus bring her to a premature grave because they forget that obedience and love for their mother is one of the ten Commandments. Remember that beautiful picture of the Holy Family of Nazareth, Jesus, Mary and Joseph. Yes, as the Holy Bible tells us "He went down with them and was subject to them." He was subject to His Blessed Mother and St. Joseph.

On this beautiful Mother's Day renew your love for your earthly mother and even "though she wears no fine clothes, or no rich silken hose there is something that makes her divine. For the Angels above taught the way how to love that old fashioned Mother of mine.

Some of our Mothers perhaps have passed away. If so, let your belief in the "Communion of Saints," which tells us of that union which exists between the "Blessed in Heaven," the faithful here upon earth, and the suffering souls in purgatory, inspire you to remember her where remembrance is best, namely at the Altar of God. Before Mother's Day has passed too far, have Mass said for the repose of her soul, that she with our Blessed Mother may be now enjoying the happiness of Heaven.

Father T. F. O'Sullivan.

CHURCHES OF CAMERON HONOR THE MOTHERS

Appropriate Mother's Day services were held at the churches here on Sunday.

At the Presbyterian church, Rev. O. C. Acrey used as his subject Sunday morning, "Behold, Thy Mother," and at the night services used a companion text with his subject, "Mother, Behold Thy Son." Dan Tyson and Mrs. G. E. Sutton sang a duet at the morning service.

Rev. N. D. Timmerman, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached an appropriate Mother's Day sermon on Sunday morning. Mrs. W. E. Kuehl sang a solo, "Mother."

Billy Triggs sang "Mother March" at the morning service of the Methodist church. Rev. J. Coy Williams, pastor of the Methodist church, rendered a Mother's Day sermon.

At the Christian church "That Old Fashioned Mother of Mine" was sung by Max Maples, a violin number was rendered by Billie Clark and Mrs. W. G. Harsha sang "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Rev. Maurice Grove, pastor of the Christian church, rendered a sermon in keeping with the day.

Miss Mabel Evard Wins Trip To Washington For Demonstration Club Work; One of Two Texas Girls To Go

Each year, two girls in the state are awarded trips to the National 4-H Club conference in Washington for their outstanding club work.

Miss Mabel Evard of Minerva in Milam county, who is a student of College of Industrial Arts in Denton was one of the girls selected to attend the conference in Washington June 16-19. Miss Bertha Fae Strange, Milam County Home Demonstration agent was notified from A. & M. College on Thursday night of Miss Evard's award.

Miss Evard won the trip on her fifth year of 4-H Club work.

She has been attending C. I. A. this past year, but is expected back to Milam county about the first of June. She aspires to be a home demonstration agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evard, parents of Miss Mabel, co-operate with their daughter in her club work. Mrs. Evard has been a member of the Bethlehem home demonstration Club for several years.

Miss Evard in commenting on her 4-H Club work stated that it had given her a feeling of hope, confidence and determination to make the "best better." It is obvious that while she is building for the betterment and happiness of her home, she is thinking and working for others. She stated in her report "there are few places in our community where the young and old people can be entertained and I have decided to plan for this place and to plant shrubs to beautify a large lawn that surrounds our home. We have an abundance of native shrubs in our pasture which we plan to use to beautify this lawn. We are looking forward to the time when we may feel free to ask the farm folk of our community to come to our lawn for their social activities.

To make a profit of $1,630.83 during five years of club work and still have a well filled pantry, and a number of improvements around the home is something to be proud of, and shows that to improve is a paying proposition. In her first year of club work, a profit of $20.00 was realized, the second year, $75.00; third year $495.00; fourth year $384.00 and the fifth year $656.12.

Although her garden was killed completely the first time in her fifth year of Club work, Miss Evard planted again and soon had as early vegetables as most anyone. "Mother and I canned 816 containers of vegetables and 310 jellies, jams, fruit, juices, catsup and relishes. I gave our neighbors vegetables to can who did not have them. I helped four persons can who had never used a canner before. My garden consisted of 24 varieties and I had an Irish potato patch separate from my garden and produced 10 bushels of potatoes which has supplied our table through the summer and fall months. After we dug these potatoes I set out sweet potato slips on the land.

"I had an acre of tomatoes and I sold $31.00 worth of ripe tomatoes. I made 325 cans tomato juice, valued at $36.40 and 30 quarts of tomato catsup valued at $7.50. Since my tomato juice was standardized, I will have an opportunity of selling all of this in the early winter. Owing to the cold weather in the spring our fruit was a failure even to our native dew berries so I canned 15 bottles of wild grape juice and it was standardized, and I shall sell it this winter.

"Early in the fall last year, I dug up my flower beds to get ready for more shrubs. Six wagon loads of barnyard fertilizer were put into these beds and pulverized thoroughly, as I had lost a few of my shrubs last winter, I needed to replace them with a new collection.

Our agent helped me select a suitable list of shrubs to replace the dead ones, and to plant my back yard which had only a few shrubs. I set 46 new ones in the back yard consisting of the following: red bud, althea, tamaric, lilac, mock orange, wax leafed legustrum, Japanese legustrum, flowering almond, Japanese and Spireas. These cost me $7.20. Last year I put out 180 shrubs and this year I lost only 17 of that number.

"I made a tile cutting bed under our agent's direction and set out 50 cuttings. It was somewhat late when I could get one of the county molds for making the tile and the county home demonstration agent said she feared I would not root my shrubs because it was too late in the spring, but I rooted 20, mostly salt cedar, which I shall give to my neighbors to put in their yards.

"We raised 368 chickens this spring and we have 60 baby ones now and eight hens setting. We will can some chickens this winter for a customer in Waco, who uses them to serve at clubs. I have 85 turkeys to sell on the November and December market. We will can four lare hogs and a yearling for our next spring eating. This meat canning will round out the 4-H pantry for 1935.

"Next year I mean to work hard again for I want to paint our home
